THE GATHERING.

The heavy host of cannon around our city, yesterday morning, the long to be heard 17th of July, and soon the signs of a preparation for a gala day were visible on every hand.

By nine o'clock the streets were crowded with people hurrying hither and thither, young men filled with the honest, hard yeomanry, the sturdy farmers, their wives and children came pouring in on every street.

Wide awakes were seen hurrying to Head Quarters, banners and flags were flying in all parts of the city, and soon the March of the day and his assistants were seen dashing to and fro, issuing their orders.

The "Wide Awake" and "Hannibal" and at quarter to 10, the Chief Marshal attended by Watchmen Adair, Bond, and the Marshal Wide Awake and Rail Splitters who had turned out to the number of two hundred, with a fine display of banners, flags and mottoes.

They were accompanied by the Marshal Bond, and the most choice music.

They were escorted through the streets and much admired.

Among their decorations was a transparency, bearing the following inscriptions and devices:

1st. "Old Abe 30 years ago," (device an uncouth young man driving an Ox team, and the people's choice for President in 1850).

2d. Devise—A Slaveowner leading a jack ass, and, totting on his shoulder a barefaced human chattel, inscribed, "I am going to Kansas with my property, for Buck says I have a right to hold it there, by the Constitution."

3d. "S. A. Douglas after the Charleston

Convention. Devise—Douglas, with clashed hands, exclaiming in deep anguish,

"O God, I lie flat on the ground to the Great, with a scowl hanging out in anger, "Slavery" is in fact a ship," her top galley inscribed, "For Salt River," on her hull the motto, "Slavery," "Slavery is a ship," "Slavery," "Slavery," "Slavery"
